Cairngorms National Park research event

Long Term Social and Ecological Research (LTSER) network launch and workshop

Thursday November 14, 2013

UPDATE: please see below for event report.

The aim of this event is not only to launch the Cairngorms National Park as the UK's first Long Term Social and Ecological Research (LTSER) network, joining up research from different disciplines to share results and improve its use and effectiveness, but also to help the Cairngorms National Park Authority develop a research strategy for the National Park, as well as to share recent research and future opportunities.

The keynote speaker will be Michael Mirtl, Environment Agency Austria and Chair of Long Term Ecosystem Research, Europe (LTER–Europe).

To book a free place please email Catriona Campbell, catrionacampbell@cairngorms.co.uk. For more information contact Gavin Miles, gavinmiles@cairngorms.co.uk.

Venue: MacDonald Aviemore Resort, Aviemore
